

HERITAGE: Rebuilding the Future from the Past

Thursday, 8th June 2017

Ioannou Centre for Classical and Byzantine Studies,
66 St Giles', Oxford OX1 3LU

PROGRAMME

- 11.00 Registration, morning tea/coffee
11.20 Bill Finlayson (CBRL) Opening Remarks
11.30 Judith McKenzie (Manar al-Athar, Oxford) "The Built Environment and Identity"
12.00 Robert Bewley (EAMENA, Oxford) "Endangered Archaeology in the Middle East and North Africa: Approach and Recent Results"
12.30 Edmund Herzig (Oriental Studies, Oxford) "Bactria/Balkh – Cultural Heritage Research and Management in Afghanistan"
1.00-2.00 Lunch
2.00 Ross Burns (Monuments of Syria, Sydney) "Aleppo – a Reckoning"
2.30 Round table discussion
3.00-4.00 Afternoon tea/coffee, with book launch for Ross Burns' Aleppo: A History and Origins of the Colonnaded Streets in the Cities of the Roman East

The event is free (with lunch), but please book:

<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/heritage-rebuilding-the-future-from-the-past-tickets-33623703402> or email: miranda.williams@classics.ox.ac.uk (ph. 01865-610 236)

Organised by Judith McKenzie and Miranda Williams for the Council for British Research in the Levant; and Oxford University's Humanities Division, Manar al-Athar, EAMENA (Endangered Archaeology of the Middle East and North Africa, and ERC project The Monumental Art of the Late Antique Christian and Early Islamic East).

Manar al-Athar

European Research Council